Special to Silver Belt

PHOENIX, Nov. 17.—Hassayampa day closed the second annual territorial fair, which from every standpoint has been a gratifying success. The attendance was good every day and aggregated over thirty-five thousand for the week.

Today's program included the free-for-all pace, which was a splendid contest between Phalla, Custer and DeBerthie, and in order to win Phalla was forced to cover the course in 2:04 1/2, and the last half mile of the heat in 1:01. The race stamps Phalla as one of the speediest pacers of the country and gives promise of a brilliant career.

In the second race, the 2:25 trot, Helen Dare won in straight heats, Dyke being second. Best time, 2:15 1/2.

A feature was the parade of the live stock, one of the finest displays of cattle and horses ever seen in the Southwest.

Miners Elect Officers

The first annual convention of the Arizona Miners' Association was held last night at the Board of Trade rooms, and in the absence of President Charles M. Shannon and Vice President Epes Randolph it was called to order by Secretary C. H. Akers.

Fair Commissioner Packard and Secretary Clark addressed the convention suggesting that the Miners' Association take charge of the mineral exhibit at the fair and have exclusive management of it hereafter. The offer was accepted and as a committee A. A. Johns, S. L. Gibson, Dr. Ford, G. A. Gaffney and Dr. Whiteside were appointed to confer further with the fair commissioners regarding the matter.

Prescott was selected as the place to hold the next convention in May next. Globe was recommended as the place of meeting in 1908.

The new officers elected are: Epes Randolph, president; J. M. Ford, vice president; F. L. Blumer, treasurer; C. H. Akers was re-elected secretary.

The address of welcome was delivered by George Purdy Ballard, and "The Westerner, Our Typical American," was treated in an able manner by Zach Cobb, the El Paso lawyer. The speaker's beautiful picture of the rugged virtues of the westerner was frequently applauded.

Dr. J. M. Ford, Thomas E. Farish and George W. Hull spoke on mining subjects of deep interest.

The Arizona Cattle Growers Association closed last night the most interesting and successful convention in history of the organization. There was wide range of subjects than conventions are usually called upon to discuss, chief among them being the question of the open range concerning which there had been a complete reversal of opinion of many of the members. When the subject of the leasing project was first brought up there was considerable opposition, but before the close it had vanished.

Another interesting matter was the experiment of Prof. Burbank in the development of a spineless cactus. The question of the Arizona Rangers was again brought up and the association organization endorsed them. A resolution was adopted thanking the retiring president James E. Bark for the activity and impartiality he had displayed in directing the affairs of the association.

The association now has 172 members on the list embracing nearly all the important cattlemen in the territory. Many fair visitors left the city last night and this evening witnessed the exodus to all points of territory including nearly all of the Globe people. A special Pullman will go through to Globe.

Ruyle-Shute

Miss Myrtle Clara Shute, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Shute, well known residents of Globe, was united in marriage Thursday evening to John Wesley Ruyle. Only the relatives and near friends of the contracting parties were in attendance. The ceremony was performed by Judge P. C. Robertson.

UNCLE SAM TO PAY

Expenses of Recent Territorial Election Paid in Washington

Clerk of the Board of Supervisors W. D. Fisk is in receipt of a letter from Governor Kibbey asking for a duplicate itemized list of the expenses of the late general election. The governor's letter states that recently, and in compliance with the request of the interior department, he forwarded an estimate of the expenses of the election as compiled from the reports of the clerks of the boards of supervisors of the different counties in the territory, the object being to arrange for the payment of the expenses of the election out of the $150,000 authorized by the joint statehood bill for holding the election demanded in the bill and the election of delegates to the constitutional convention.

The cost of the election in this territory will probably be placed at the disposal of the department of the interior by the treasury department, to be paid out on the presentation of properly authorized vouchers.

The governor is not sure that the government will pay all the expenses of the election, although he does not see how the different items can be separated. His letter states that the government pays no claims without much formality, and suggests to the various clerks that the chances of delay be not increased by carelessness on their part in making out the expense claims.

Every claim of election expense of whatever character must be verified before an officer before it will receive any consideration.

MAKES REPORT
ON INSURANCEDistrict Attorney Jerome Says
State Has Law Covering Abuses

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—District Attorney Jerome tonight made public the first report prepared by him upon the request of Governor Higgins concerning the conduct of the business of life insurance in this state. The report is a document of some 14,000 words and is addressed to the governor, to whom a copy was mailed today. It deals with the affairs of the Mutual Life Insurance company. In a later report the district attorney says that he will consider the best methods of life insurance companies.

Epitomized, the conclusions of the district attorney, based upon an exhaustive investigation of the facts and the legal points involved, are that there is a state law under which insurance officers can be proceeded against criminally for acts now or formerly in common practice, some of which were made public during the recent legislative investigation, including the cases of two officers of the Mutual Life Insurance company specific charges of forgery and larceny have been filed. Mr. Jerome points out that while it is in the power of the insurance commission of New York to obtain a law covering all the alleged evils of insurance, the case under discussion does not come within the provisions of any statute now existent.

POLTAVA, Russia, Nov. 17.—General Polkownikoff, commander of the garrison here, was shot dead tonight. A soldier who was passing at the time also was killed by unknown persons.

Will Play Morenci

Final selection of the members of the Globe football team was made last evening and there will be a practice game at the ball grounds this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The team has been doing good preliminary work and will soon be ready to meet all comers. Manager Roland Jacobs received a letter yesterday from Morenci asking for a game, and it is very probable that a contest will be arranged for to take place in Globe Thanksgiving day between the two teams. A large delegation from Morenci will accompany the team from that city, if the game is arranged.

On Large Scale

By Associated Press

SEATTLE, Nov. 17.—Charges of smuggling on a large scale against Captain Geo. V. Williams of the Boston Steamship company's orient freighter Lyra, who resigned after his arrest at Tacoma a week ago, are under investigation by the federal grand jury now in session in this city.

Williams is accused of smuggling on a larger scale than has ever before been attempted in this city. He is accused of under-valuing invoices of silk and opium comprising his vessel's cargo and then disposing of the goods in Seattle and Tacoma at their real value. This would involve the complicity of certain Japanese customs officials and several confederates on this side. Williams was on the oriental run to this port for five years.

WATERS ARE NOW RECEDING

Northern Pacific Tries to Transfer Passengers by Steamboat—All Railroads
Still Tied Up—Suffering in Many of the Northern Towns.

By Associated Press

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 17.—All through the western part of Washington, the waters of the most disastrous floods in four years are rapidly subsiding, and danger from further loss is over.

Railroads, both steam and electric, telephone and telegraph companies are making strenuous efforts to bring order out of the chaos which the flood has caused, but it will be several weeks before things are adjusted to their former state.

As yet it is too early to make possible a complete estimate of the damage, but it is conservatively estimated as amounting to fully $1,000,000 in King county alone. It is probable that five deaths is the limit of fatalities in King county. The destitute are being well cared for.

With the exception of trains on a few spur lines, no trains are moving; but it is hoped to have some sort of service in operation within a day or so.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 17.—Three powerful river steamers chartered by the Northern Pacific Railroad company are endeavoring to stem the rushing waters of the Cowlitz river between Castle Rock and Olquaqua and to transfer Northern Pacific passengers between these points, but the task is considered almost hopeless at this stage of the flood.

The railroad company has out large gangs of men repairing the track at various places, and is doing everything possible to better the situation.

About 2,000 persons are stalled in Portland waiting to go east over the Northern Pacific or to the south. Most of them will probably get away tomorrow. Those waiting in the city to reach eastern points beyond Spokane will be sent over the Oregon Railway & Navigation company's lines when the officials of the latter report the track in good shape.

Probably two or three Northern Pacific trains will be sent over their line daily until the trouble in the north between Seattle and Spokane is remedied. On the Oregon Railway & Navigation line a succession of troubles has been met with today, principally landslides, and it is said great difficulty is being met in keeping the main line clear. It is the cause of an order which has been issued restricting the Northern Pacific to the operation of but one train a day each way between Portland and Walla Walla until conditions improve.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 17.—The water is rapidly receding after the worst flood known in six years. The entire precipitation was 4.22 inches in three days to Wednesday night, coupled with the Chinook winds which melted the snow on the mountains. The interurban electric line between Tacoma and Seattle suffered heavily in the washouts and slide and will not be restored for several days. Industries along the Puyallup river in Tacoma were put out of business for several days.

At the city of Puyallup, the water system was cut off by the main pipe being broken. Numerous wagon and railroad bridges are out and hundreds of Northern Pacific passengers are being cared for here. Transfers are made by steamer between Tacoma and Seattle, a railroad bridge over the Stuck river being washed away. Many trains are stalled east of the Cascades. Fifteen hundred feet of trestles went out at Olquaqua, on the Cowlitz river, between Tacoma and Portland. Efforts are being made to secure a transfer between Olquaqua and Castle Rock, but the Cowlitz river is a raging torrent, and many of the staunchest Columbia river steamers could not be chartered to attempt the service.

Passengers will not be sent forward unless it is absolutely safe. Bridges at Lester and Weston on the main line of the Northern Pacific through the Cascades were washed out, but it is hoped to get trains through Monday or Tuesday. The Northern Pacific has opened its line to Ravensdale and took 40 cars of coal into Seattle last night.

Much of the damage in King and Pierce counties was caused by the White river, which has changed its course and is now in the course of Stuck river, flooding a wide stretch of fertile land. Two Japanese gardeners on the Tacoma tide flats are believed to have been drowned. That is the only loss of life in this vicinity.

B. C. Gleason returned last evening from Phoenix, where he attended the territorial fair.

CONCENTRATOR
BEING ERECTEDMill on the Yo Tambien of Pinto
Creek Company Now
Going Up

The new 100 ton concentrator of the Pinto Creek Mining & Smelting company on the Yo Tambien property is rapidly nearing completion, all of the heavy machinery having been installed during the past week.

The mill is being erected by the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee and according to Mr. Strite, the millwright of the company, the concentrator will be ready to be turned over to the company by Dec. 15.

The first ore to be mined by the company will be taken from the large stope on level C. The vein has widened out to nine feet with no footwall in sight. The ore is a sulphide, showing considerable peacock, black glance and red copper oxides and is of a very rich character, throughout the entire vein.

The work on the lower crosscut tunnel, which is to connect with the shaft at a depth of 1,200 feet, is being vigorously pushed and from the quartz formation and copper-stain encountered within the last few days it is believed that the first five veins to be encountered by this crosscut is very near at hand.

SMELTER SITE

A Mile South of Old Dominion

Superintendent J. C. Britt of the Mitchell Mining company and the Pennsylvania, Cananea & Globe company, stated yesterday that the site for the Mitchell smelter had been selected. It will be erected on the Haley property recently acquired by the company, about a mile from the Old Dominion smelter. H. H. Freeman, the Mitchell smelter expert, has left Globe to join Robert Mitchell at El Paso, where the furnace has been ordered, and both will be here early this week.

Tuesday evening there will be a public dance at Dreamland. Admission for ladies will be free and for gentlemen $1.

PRINCETON, N.J., Nov. 17.—Princeton and Yale today played a 0 to 0 football game, the first time in nearly 20 years that neither eleven has scored. The wearers of the orange and black had confidently expected to win, as the Princeton team this fall was of the best product, and so hopeful were they of ultimate success that odds of 5 to 3 were freely offered just prior to the game, that Yale would be defeated.

But like Princeton eleven of today was a disappointment, the lightning-like play which the coaches has been depending upon to confound the Yale boys were lacking and E. Dillon, the wonderful little quarterback, on whom such high hopes had been built, fumbled miserably. This was especially the case on punts. While he made some pretty running catches and once got away for a run of 45 yards, his dropping of punts would have resulted disastrously to Princeton had it not been for the fast work of Wister.

Princeton lacked a diversity of attack. She could not gain on fakes, neither could she pierce the Yale line with any degree of success. Yale on the other hand was able to make consistent gains against Princeton's line, and it looked as though the Blue must surely have scored a few minutes before the close of the game had they stuck to straight foot ball instead of attempting fancy plays.

Near the finish Yale secured the ball in Princeton's territory near the center field. By line smashing, in which Morse, Linn and Forbes made gains, Yale had the ball within a few yards of Princeton's goal. A delayed pass was attempted, a Yale man was off side, and what looked like a possible touchdown for Yale went amiss. Several penalties were inflicted and each team suffered alike in this respect. Time was taken out twice because of injuries to Princeton players, but Yale did not ask for a single instant. Capt. Dillon of Princeton was forced to retire from the game; also Harlan.

In the last minute of the game with Yale pushing the Princeton team steadily toward the latter's goal, Roome, Yales great half back, who has been incapacitated, trotted onto the field. Yale supporters became almost delirious and yelled frantically for "Roome" "Roome," "Touch down," "touch down," but just as the Yale crack was making ready to get into the lineup the whistle blew announcing the close of the game. The teams were on the field 77 minutes, which is probably a record game for shortness.

The crowd was the largest that ever witnessed a Yale-Princeton game in Princeton, it being estimated at 30,000. Many thousands came from New York and Philadelphia in the 25 special trains and other thousands came in automobiles.

Pennsy 17, Michigan 0

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—In a game that surprised the most enthusiastic supporters, the University of Pennsylvania football team today defeated the Michigan University eleven on Franklin field by the decisive score of 17 to 0. Pennsy's indifferent playing during the present season gave her sympathizers scant hope for victory over her formidable rival from the west, but the spirit and dash the red and blue players showed today repeatedly got the spectators to their feet.

The team as a whole played with the smoothness and precision of a well adjusted machine, and the men individually went into each play with such vim and power that Michigan's defense was often disorganized. Throughout the game Pennsylvania showed no let up, and appeared to be as strong when the game came to a close as when it began, notwithstanding that Michigan had the heavier team and that Pennsylvania was playing almost entirely on the defensive.

Chicago 63; Illinois 0

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Chicago's football eleven gave Illinois the worst drubbing it ever had, the Maroons running up 63 points and keeping Illinois from crossing their goal line on the one lone chance the state players had to score. Ten touchdowns were made by Chicago, nine of the goals being kicked, while Eckersall helped along the slaughter by dropping a field goal from the 20 yard line.

Harvard 22, Dartmouth 9

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 17.—On a slippery field, Harvard defeated Dartmouth this afternoon by a score of 22 to 9. The Harvard team had its own way during the first half and during the early part of the second half, but as the game drew to a close and with substitutes in the Harvard line, their goal was crossed by the Dartmouth men.

Dartmouth played the new football and the fake play on which they secured their touchdown, was pronounced the prettiest football ever seen on Soldiers' field. Harvard also played the new rules to advantage but was handicapped in getting off snappy plays by the slippery field.

Substitutes were freely used by both sides, Harvard taking no chances of overworking their men, who are scheduled to play against Yale. With Parker, Kernsburg and Burr out of the line in the second half the fresh Dartmouth backs plowed great holes in the line, but they seemed to lack confidence in their ability to carry the ball when near the Harvard goal line.

FATAL FIRE

Town Threatened—Two
Known to be Dead

By Associated Press

GOLDFIELD, Nev., Nov. 17.—A fierce fire, swept by strong winds, completely destroyed the Hotel Goldfield, the leading hotel of the town, cost the lives of at least two guests and threatened the destruction of the entire business section of the town at an early hour this morning.

Disembodied bodies were found in the debris, which made it appear that many were dead. The known dead are A. H. Heber of Los Angeles and Judge J. M. Ellis of Denver. The head of the corpse supposed to be Ellis was dismembered from the trunk and only a very few bones remained.

Many were injured by jumping from the second and third stories, as the big wooden building was enveloped in flames so quickly there was no other means of escape. Nothing was saved in the entire building. Guests escaped in their night clothes and very few took time to dress.

Statement

MAKES NO RECOMMENDATION

Says That It Is for Congress to Decide—
Secretary Believes That an Elastic
Currency Is Needed Because of Recent Occurrences

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Secretary Shaw of the treasury today authorized the following statement upon the subject of the proposed currency legislation:

"In his previous reports Secretary Shaw has recommended currency legislation, but has never recommended any particular plans to the exclusion of others. He was much gratified at the attention given the subject by the chamber of commerce of New York, by the bankers' associations and by the committees appointed by each. He has remained in the cabinet largely in the hope of securing some legislation upon the subject, but he has not recommended and will not recommend details of legislation.

"The secretary will be pleased beyond measure if congress will adopt every detail of the plan recommended by the recent committee of bankers and business men. He thinks congress will have no difficulty in working out a plan thereby satisfactory to all, though in detail meeting the wishes in every particular of no one man, whenever it decides to exchange upon the subject.

"When congress decided to pass a tariff law the Dingley bill was promptly put upon the statute books. When it decided to enact a gold standard measure, the act of March 14, 1900, was the quick result. When it decided to pass a rate bill, no unnecessary delay ensued. If it shall undertake to add an elastic feature to our present currency system, the secretary has no doubt of favorable results in short order.

"That such action is imperative he thinks recent experiences made apparent. In his report he will strongly urge that something be done, and may suggest several methods for consideration of action. The secretary of the treasury, being charged only with the responsibility of administering his department under the law, as it exists, and of making reports to congress will not assume the responsibility involved in recommending the details of needed legislation. The subject matter and the end necessary to be attained, he will fully discuss.

TEXAS NEGRO

By Associated Press

CENTER, Texas, Nov. 17.—Intense excitement prevails here tonight as a result of the killing of Dr. H. Paul this afternoon by Dick Garrett, a negro whom the former was deputized to arrest following the appearance of Garrett upon the streets armed with a pistol.

When Garrett was approached while upon the street he resisted arrest and ran to the home of H. B. Short a white man and brother, who with shotguns prevented the officers following him. Dr. Paul, with several others was deputized to arrest the negro. When Dr. Paul entered the house the negro fired, killing him instantly. Garrett surrendered to the officers and is now in jail.

EL RENO, Okla., Nov. 17.—Major Penrose, commanding at Fort Reno, acting under orders from Washington, will Monday morning begin dismissing the negro soldiers of the 25th Infantry, who are to be dishonorably discharged. One-half of each company will be discharged daily.

There was a large attendance at the Auditorium last evening, for the dance which was given in honor of the ladies of the Ethel Tucker Stock company. The colored orchestra furnished the music.

I. N. Kinsey will leave this morning for El Paso, Douglas and Bisbee for an absence of ten days. During that time his brokerage office in the Dominion hotel will be in charge of James A. Gibbs of Bisbee.
